LILLY MOSS DELIVERS RED-HOT REVENGE TALE WITH DIGGIN' IN MY HEELS

Lilly Moss has released her fiery single Diggin' In My Heels, a darkly comic revenge fantasy with an empowering heart. The song arrives during Childhood Cancer Awareness Month, a deeply meaningful time for the country artist and childhood cancer survivor.

The song is written by Dan Wilson, Joseph Patton and Cassidy Lynn, and produced by Eric Torres. Its driving guitars and bold storytelling showcase a fearless side of Lilly's artistry. Following the heartfelt Somebody Should, this new single displays her range and determination.

Lilly says the song is about standing your ground, taking control and finding your own strength. She recently opened for Russell Dickerson at Musikfest and is signed to Music City Power Company.
